Title: Interaction with girl students regarding Women Empowerment cell and its activities through the year

Date: November 19, 2021

Event organizer: Sk.Ayesha, Lecturer in Botany

Participant Lecturers: 8

Students: 15

Introduction:

On November 19, 2021, an interactive session was held with female students of our institution to discuss the Women Empowerment Cell and its various activities conducted throughout the year. The session aimed to raise awareness, foster dialogue, and encourage participation in initiatives aimed at empowering women.

Event Overview:

The session began with a warm welcome from Sk. Ayesha, the organizer of the event. She emphasized the importance of women's empowerment in today's society and highlighted the role of the Women Empowerment Cell in promoting gender equality and women's rights within the institution.

Discussion Highlights:

Introduction to Women Empowerment Cell: The session commenced with an overview of the Women Empowerment Cell, its objectives, and its role in advocating for women's issues on campus. Various initiatives undertaken by the cell were discussed, including workshops, seminars, and awareness campaigns.

Activities Throughout the Year: The participants were briefed on the activities organized by the Women Empowerment Cell over the past year. These included:

Workshops on self-defense techniques and personal safety.

Seminars on women's health and hygiene.

Guest lectures by eminent personalities on gender equality and women's rights.

Awareness campaigns on gender-based violence and discrimination.

Skill development programs aimed at enhancing employability among female students.

Feedback and Suggestions: The session provided an opportunity for students to share their feedback and suggestions for improving the activities of the Women Empowerment Cell. Students expressed appreciation for the initiatives undertaken and suggested incorporating more interactive sessions and practical workshops.

Future Plans: The session concluded with a discussion on future plans and upcoming activities of the Women Empowerment Cell. Participants were encouraged to actively engage in the planning and execution of future events and initiatives.

Conclusion:

The interactive session served as a platform for meaningful dialogue and collaboration among female students and faculty members regarding women's empowerment. It reinforced the commitment of the institution towards promoting gender equality and fostering a supportive environment for women. Moving forward, the Women Empowerment Cell remains dedicated to empowering women and creating positive change within the institution and beyond.

Title: Elocution on Challenges Faced by Women in Education and Employment

Topic: Challenges to Women in the Path of Education and Employment

Resource Person: Ch. Rama Devi, Lecturer in Commerce, GDC-Jangareddygudem

Date: December 20, 2021

Venue: SAS Govt Degree College, Narayanapuram

Organizer: Women Empowerment Cell, SAS Govt Degree College, Narayanapuram

Introduction:

On December 20, 2021, an elocution was held at SAS Govt Degree College, Narayanapuram, organized by the Women Empowerment Cell, focusing on the challenges faced by women in education and employment. The event aimed to shed light on the obstacles hindering women's progress in these domains and inspire action towards gender equality.

Event Overview:

The elocution began with a brief introduction by the organizer, highlighting the significance of addressing the challenges encountered by women in pursuing education and employment opportunities. The selection of the topic was motivated by the remarkable achievements of Sirimaamilla Deekshitha, a former student who overcame obstacles to secure prestigious positions.

Elocution Highlights:

Addressing Educational Challenges: Ch. Rama Devi, the resource person, commenced the session by delving into the various hurdles faced by women in accessing quality education. She discussed societal norms, financial constraints, and cultural biases that often deter girls from pursuing higher education.

Exploring Employment Barriers: Rama Devi elaborated on the barriers women encounter in the workforce, including gender discrimination, unequal pay, and limited career advancement opportunities. She emphasized the need for systemic changes to create a more inclusive and equitable work environment.

Inspiration from Success Stories: The elocution drew inspiration from the success story of Sirimaamilla Deekshitha, who defied societal expectations and achieved remarkable feats in education and employment. Her journey served as a beacon of hope and motivation for aspiring women.

Call to Action: Participants were encouraged to challenge stereotypes, advocate for equal opportunities, and support initiatives promoting women's empowerment in education and employment sectors. The session emphasized the collective responsibility of society in breaking down barriers and fostering gender equality.

Conclusion:

The elocution provided a platform for meaningful dialogue and reflection on the challenges hindering women's progress in education and employment. Through insightful discussions and inspiring narratives, participants were empowered to confront societal norms and work towards creating a more inclusive and equitable society.

Introduction:

The vibrant hues of tradition came alive as the Women Empowerment Cell of SAS Govt Degree College, Narayanapuram, hosted a captivating Rangoli Competition. This event, held on January 7, 2021, not only celebrated creativity but also served as a testament to the rich cultural heritage cherished by the institution.

Event Overview:

Thirteen talented young women took center stage, transforming the floor into a canvas of artistic brilliance. Their Rangoli designs, a fusion of creativity and tradition, illuminated the surroundings and captivated the audience with their mesmerizing patterns and intricate details.

Event Highlights:

Artistic Brilliance: The competition witnessed a kaleidoscope of colors and designs as participants showcased their artistic prowess. Each Rangoli, a masterpiece in its own right, reflected the essence of Indian culture and tradition.

Creative Expression: With deft strokes and meticulous precision, participants unleashed their creativity, infusing traditional motifs and contemporary flair into their designs. From geometric symmetries to floral arrangements, each Rangoli spoke volumes about the artist's imagination and skill.

Spirit of Competition: Amidst an atmosphere charged with excitement, participants engaged in friendly rivalry, inspiring one another to push the boundaries of creativity. The spirit of camaraderie and mutual encouragement added an extra dimension to the event, fostering a sense of unity and pride among participants.

Judging and Recognition: A panel of esteemed faculty members undertook the arduous task of evaluating the Rangoli designs, considering factors such as creativity, symmetry, and overall aesthetic appeal. The winners, chosen with utmost fairness and diligence, were applauded for their exceptional talent and dedication.

Conclusion:

The Rangoli Competition not only showcased the artistic talents of the participants but also served as a tribute to the timeless beauty of Indian art forms. Through their intricate designs and vibrant colors, the participants not only celebrated tradition but also embodied the spirit of creativity and innovation. The event, a true reflection of cultural harmony and artistic expression, left an indelible mark on all who witnessed it.

Acknowledgment:

The Women Empowerment Cell extends heartfelt gratitude to all participants for their enthusiastic involvement and outstanding contributions to the success of the Rangoli Competition. Special thanks are also extended to the faculty members for their unwavering support and guidance, which made this event a memorable and enriching experience for all involved.
