

Outcomes of the certificate course

The proposed course, "The Significance of Buddhist Tourism," offered by the History department at SAS Government Degree College, aims to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of Buddhist tourism. Through this 30-day course, students will gain a broad knowledge of Buddhist tourism, encompassing historical, cultural, and geographical aspects. They will critically analyze the significance of various Buddhist sites and regions within the broader context of Buddhist history and its spread. The course will help students develop cultural sensitivity by exploring the diverse cultural contexts in which Buddhism has thrived. Additionally, students will have the opportunity for practical application through site visits, discussions, and other hands-on experiences related to Buddhist tourism. Active engagement and interaction are encouraged through group activities and potential guest lectures, fostering a deeper appreciation of the cultural and heritage aspects of Buddhism and its impact on tourism. By the end of the course, students should possess a well-rounded education on the subject and a greater appreciation for the historical and contemporary significance of Buddhist tourism.
